In Retrospect

History has a habit of bestowing the accolade of greatness upon those relatively few individuals who have contributed substantially of their genius to the general benefit of mankind. They are forever the hope of a needy world, and upon their capable shoulders has rested the vast majority of all human endeavor and progress.

It is with considerable pride and a sense of correctness that we place Dr. William Bray Needles among the foremost ranks of this highly select group. His majestic role in the comparatively brief history of optometric education bears full testimony to the character of this man who literally gave his life for the improvement of his profession and the increased visual well-being of the peoples of the civilized world.

It will never be completely possible to measure the overwhelming influence of his optometric efforts. From the very earliest days of Optometry, when his leadership and organizing abilities began to mould optometric thinking, his dynamic presence has been felt in the pulse of our academic and ethical growth. His graduates, during the tenure of his Presidency of this great College, have consistently comprised more than half of all in the practice of the profession, and through them he has given improved vision, comfort and happiness to unnumbered millions of Americans. Surely this is a great and noble work, and one of which we are justly proud.

A pioneering spirit, a sedulous application to order and rightness, a magnificent personality, a forceful and effective manner of speaking, a large and sincere heart—these are the things which have for so long characterized our good friend. Never interested in the petty and picayunish, he resolutely maintained a high order of thought and deed, even during those trying and transitional times when Optometry was battling for its very existence; when the shift began from “trade” to “profession.” He contributed much both in effecting the change and in cushioning the adjustment. In 1947, the Government of the United States officially recognized Optometry as a full-fledged profession; it is altogether fitting that Dr. Needles lived to know this, and to savor the victory toward which he had dedicated all of his time and energies.

A truly great and good man has passed our way. We shall never forget him, for his after-image will remain with us so long as there is a profession of Optometry, and so long as there are men of intelligence and integrity within that profession who will carry on his teachings to their ultimate complete fulfillment.

Dr. William B. Needles

Architect of Optometry

HIS LIFE STORY

On June 5, 1948, at Passavant Hospital in Chicago, the Northern Illinois College of Optometry, and indeed the entire optometric profession, suffered a grievous and momentous loss. That day saw the final act in the distinguished career of Dr. William B. Needles, pioneer and leader in his chosen field.

This eminent and well-loved educator, the founder of the one of largest optometric colleges of the profession, was born in Sedalia, Missouri, on the 17th day of May, 1879.

A man of unusual vigor and keen insight, he began his work in Optometry while still in his early twenties. His efforts in the field of optometric education antedated by several years the first of the state laws which gave legal recognition to the profession.

He established the Needles Institute of Optometry in 1910 at Kansas City, Missouri. Graduates from this school became conspicuous for their success and leadership in practice, testifying to the great ability of Dr. Needles as teacher and counsellor.

It was increasingly apparent to the men of Optometry of that era that "this young Needles of Kansas City" was on his way to bigger and better things in his service to the profession. Inevitably, the day arrived on which he walked into the office of Dr. George B. McFatrigh, his close personal friend, who was the President of the Northern Illinois College of Ophthalmology and Otology, a school which trained medical men in eye, ear, nose and throat. Dr. Needles emerged from that conference as the new President. Shortly thereafter, he effected a merger of the two schools, which he called the Northern Illinois College of Optometry. The new institution blossomed, both in size and in the scope of its curriculum and optometric philosophy.

From the beginning, Dr. Needles was most fortunate in having his sister as his associate and co-worker. Miss Lida E. Needles has served the school and the profession in numerous capacities, being treasurer at the present time. Her long affiliation has meant a great deal to the growth and development of the college.

Dr. Needles was a generous and prolific lecturer, especially in his earlier years, when he devoted much of his time to various state conventions and meetings of the national association. Though an extremely busy man of manifold responsibilities, he was never too preoccupied to contribute articles of interest and importance to the optometric publications, in which he forcefully pressed forward his endeavors to install Optometry upon a higher professional plane. His efforts have borne gratifying fruit.

Like so many men of ideas and influence, he found some who did not always agree with him or with his methods; interestingly enough, however, those who disagreed were among the first to admit that "Dr. W. B." always acted and spoke in the best interests of optometric advancement. His friends were numerous and located in all parts of the country, due to his widespread convention activities. So marked was his influence upon Optometry, over the years, that there were few practicing optometrists who did not know him personally, or who were not familiar with his sound philosophies.

Nothing less than indisputable proof could cause him to question either the motives or abilities of a friend in whom he had once placed confidence. When mistakes were made by any member of his staff, he always assumed full responsibility. To the public, he was the only man in the whole organization who ever committed a serious error.

Dr. Needles suffered a heart attack while at Richmond, Virginia, following the Southeastern Convention of 1942. From that time, he gradually relinquished much of the administrative work of the college.

At the time of his passing, he was an Honorary Life Member of the American Optometric Association, which membership dates back to 1920. He was a Fellow of the American Academy of Optometry and of the Distinguished Service Foundation in Optometry. In addition, he held memberships in the Beta Sigma Kappa and Omega Delta fraternities.

The guidance and counsel of a great leader is no longer with us, but the professional influence and creeds of Dr. Needles will cast a long shadow in the future of the profession he loved so well.

The Graduating Seniors
Northern Illinois College

Dear Doctors:

Within a very few days, 442 men and women who have worked, studied, gripped and laughed together for four academic years will leave this College in as many directions as there are points on the compass. Many of us will never again see some of the men with whom we have been in such close contact these past years, with whom we have eaten daily or exchanged lecture notes and studied into the wee hours. Together, we have been talking, living and breathing Optometry since the day we timidly sat lining the corridors of the Administration Building, moving up seat by seat towards that sanctum sanctorum, the Registrar's Office.

At that time we were individuals whose only bond was a desire to learn Optometry. We had arrived from various sections of the country, with variegated backgrounds, each living in his own separate world. From that fateful day until the present time, however, we have been working towards a common goal, thinking the same thoughts, living the same kind of existence and imbibing our knowledge at the same fountain of education. The end result of this constant association, whether or not you realize it, is a group of men and women who not only have the same objective, but who also will use the same methods to attain it; whose thought processes, though individual in operation, will inevitably arrive at the same conclusions. This is a power for the propagation of ethical Optometry unequalled since its beginning some fifty years ago.

Never in the history of the profession has a class been graduated from an Optometry college with as much knowledge as we possess. Never has the service of Optometry been offered more capable and practiced hands than those which we extend in her direction. Yet, we offer them with a feeling of trepidation born of an awareness of the vital role played by Optometry in the health of society and of the obligations we owe those who have pioneered to raise Optometry to the exalted place it now commands among the professions.

The College has provided us with the tools with which to build our optometric thinking and the theories and constructs upon which to erect it. Ours now is the task of integrating and molding this mass of knowledge into a philosophy with which we may better serve those who entrust their visual welfare to our judgement and by which we may vindicate the connotations of the title to be conferred upon us this coming G-Day.

I express the opinion of the Annual Staff and the class officers when I say that it has been a privilege to serve you and that we hope, sometime in the not-too-distant future to hear of your exploits and conquests in the field of Optometry.

Sincerely and good luck,

Executive Vice-President of the College

A Message from the Vice-President

The Student Body of Northern Illinois College of Optometry is to be commended on the wonderful support and encouragement it has given the September 1948 graduating class in promoting the publication of this outstanding and fitting tribute to the memory of one of the greatest Optometric leaders and educators of all time. In being instrumental in the compilation and publication of this book the class of September 1948 has displayed the same ambition and zeal that marked the very fruitful and productive life of our departed leader and friend— Dr. William B. Needles.

Everyone in Optometry knew Bill Needles and the great work he had done in behalf of the profession of Optometry and Optometric education. Those in Optometry who knew him well and worked closely with him through the years fully understand why at the time of his passing one prominent Optometrist sent his "condolences to the Profession of Optometry".

Bill Needles was a pioneer, a leader and a builder; Optometry today can attribute much of its recognition and standing to the ideals and practices which he conceived, charted and then pursued to fulfillment. The thousands who sought their education and training under him are today the backbone of organized Optometry and living testimonials to the fact that Bill knew what it took, and gave it to them. His fidelity to high ideals and his record of accomplishments in Optometric education and Professional Advancement stand alone and Optometry will probably never again be blessed with such a distinguished and outstanding leader. Bill knew that the broader the base the stronger the structure. On this pattern he built the strong organization which today controls the destinies of the largest institution in the profession.

Those of us who were closely associated with him derived much of our real education and knowledge from that cherished association.

While we mourn the loss of our dear friend and leader we feel privileged to know that he selected and trained us to carry on the noble work to which he dedicated his life. The institution which he founded and built will carry on and continue its march of progress and educational leadership because that's the way Bill wanted it.

It will be a continuing privilege to so honor the memory of a real friend.

A Message from the Dean . . .

As your Dean, I consider it a privilege to be asked to write a message for the William B. Needles Memorial Edition of the 1948 Yearbook.

Having come to you from other fields of endeavor just a few months ago, I am consistently impressed by the initiative, drive, friendliness and cooperation displayed by our students, faculty and administration.

Great losses have come our way in this year of 1948, but the constructive spirit of the past has called forth renewed effort on the part of all of us. And so, N. I. C. O. will continue to march forward in loving memory of our revered President, and of his and our departed associates who have given their lives to the college and to the profession of Optometry.

To the graduates of 1948 I say in all sincerity that I enjoyed having you with us, and that I shall miss you all. My hope is that your personal and professional lives will be filled with a complete measure of happiness and success.

About the Research Department

The purpose of the work being done in the Research Department is to investigate various optometric problems in order to disseminate factual knowledge, primarily for the benefit and enlightenment of practicing optometrists everywhere.

The work, in the form of specific projects, is carried on by graduate optometrists and, in some instances, undergraduates of this college, all under the supervision of Dr. Shepard.

At the present time there is no academic reward accruing to those who participate in the research.

In order to qualify as a member or associate of the staff, all applicants are judged on the following points: qualifications in prior experience and former schooling; the ability to formulate explicitly the problem in mind; library research for knowledge of work done by other investigators; scholastic standing. Upon fulfillment of these requirements, he may become associated and undertake actual experimental work on the problem.

All members of the staff must be able to analyze their data and prepare the results for publication; to that end they must be willing to attend special classes where advisable.

All students of the college are potential subjects for the research projects by virtue of the fact that they must all routinely go through the clinic as patients. They may also volunteer at any time to serve as subjects for research.

Visual screening teams are sent out to industrial plants and schools, both public and private, in response to requests for such services made to the department.

One of the important phases of the work is done in cooperation with the Northern Illinois Eye Clinic. One of the members of the Research staff is also on the Clinic staff; his duties include the selection of certain Senior students on the merit of their clinical work to make complete visual analyses of students, employees or clients of institutions with which the department is co-operating.

Reports are prepared on the projects from time to time. These reports are sent to any optometrists requesting them. They may also be obtained free of charge by interested students.

It is highly desirable that the Department of Research stimulate interest in scientific optometric research, and attract all students having special talents that may aid the advance of modern optometry. It is necessary to apply increasingly higher standards in the selection of those whose work will be recognized by this department, for it is by their work that Research will be known and respected.

Jacob Fondiler was born on December 17, 1923 in Passaic, New Jersey. He attended high school in that city. During the second world war he served with the 794th Bomb Squadron, 463rd Bomb Group, 20th Air Force, as a Staff Sergeant. He was a waist gunner in a B-29 and saw much action over the Japanese Combat Zone, winning the Air Medal and the Distinguished Flying Cross.

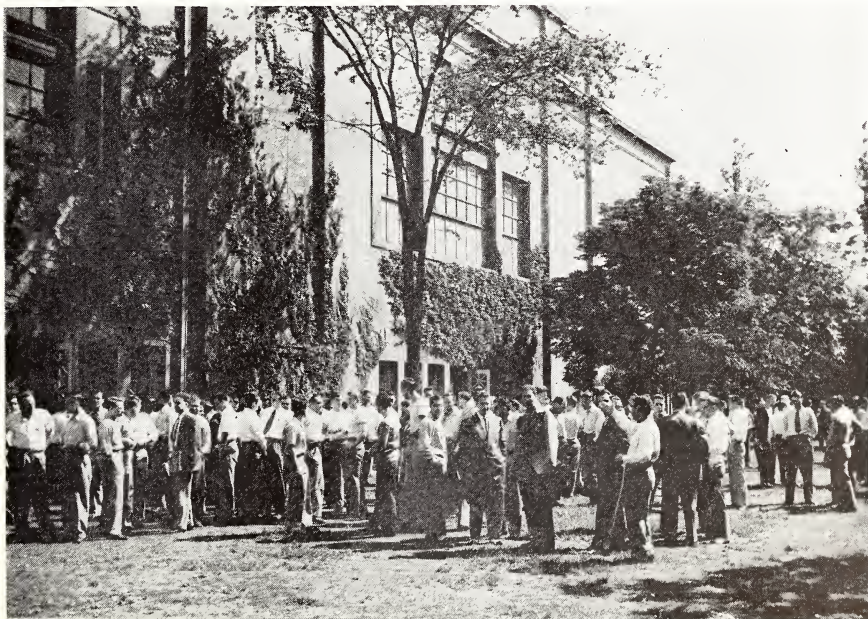

Jacob began his training at Northern Illinois

JACOB FONDILER

College on February 11, 1946. He had pledged the Mu Sigma Pi Fraternity and was active in the New Jersey Club. While in school he had been working in his spare time at the Treasury Department.

Jacob was stricken and passed away on July 22, 1948, in the home stretch of his school career. Although he will not be among those present at our graduation, we include his name and picture as a tribute to his memory.

"...Optometry has lost a man who cannot be replaced. The College, under his guidance, holds the highest place in the profession."

Mollie W. Armstrong

The Student Council.....

The Student Council, functioning under a new constitution adopted during the presidency of Seymour Galina early in 1947, is the executive body of the entire college student enrollment. The membership of the council is comprised of the duly elected officers of each of the individual class sections.

Concerning itself with any and all matters which affect the welfare of the student body, the group acts as their official representative in dealing with the administration and faculty of the college. In addition, it will operate as the governing agency for all college publications.

One of the important functions of the council is the arrangement of general student assemblies, and the presentation of outstanding men of the profession. During the last semester, Drs. Frederick W. Brock, Ralph Wick, and Harry Pine were among those invited to speak.

Intra-mural athletics, social activities of an all-school nature, the financing of the annual Open House, and similar functions fall within the jurisdiction of this student organization.

The Council on Ethics.....

MORRIS M. GINIS, President

ROBERT KEITEL, Vice-President

DAN D. EPPS, Secretary-Treasurer

WILLIAM DELLANDE, Corres.-Secretary

"On October 26, 1946, several students of Northern Illinois College of Optometry, dissatisfied with the rate of ethical progress of the profession of optometry, conceived an organization to be dedicated to the furtherance and acceleration of ethical thinking and practice amongst undergraduate students particularly, and ultimately the profession of optometry as a whole. This organization was to be named the Undergraduate Council on Ethics." (Preamble)

With the preamble, oath, and constitution written and approved, an increasing number of interested students began to come to the meetings and the movement gained impetus, until, at the present time, the Council on Ethics is known throughout the profession and is a by-word among the students.

At the council's first election of regular officers, Brandon E. Rea, always interested in undergraduate activities, took over the responsible position of president. James Manville, Ben Emanuel, and Morris M. Ginis were elected to the other offices, respectively.

Student interest in professionalism was awakened by the distribution of pertinent literature, bulletin board displays, and council sponsored programs featuring prominent men of optometry and allied professions.

The work done in notifying the various state associations of the trends in professional thinking among the undergraduates, and the beginnings of similar organizations in other colleges of optometry was of equal importance.

Tomb and Key.....

In the year 1931 at Northern Illinois College of Optometry a group of sixteen students founded Tomb and Key.

The Fraternity functions to fulfill the need for the promotion of excellence in all educational endeavors, the advancement of the ethics of the profession, and the development of good moral character, friendship and fellowship among the students and alumni of the institutions of learning.

Members of Tomb and Key are composed of selectees from the Senior I class in attendance at Northern Illinois College for at least one academic year.

The basic requirement for membership is the possession of at least a 3.00 scholastic average. Additional points are credited to candidates based upon various activities and positions held displaying qualities of leadership. No student is barred because of race, color, creed or sex.

Honorary members of Tomb and Key include: Carl F. Shepard, Thomas G. Atkinson, William B. Needles, J. C. Copeland, Ernest Ochiena, C. S. McGuire, William Feinbloom, Fay M. Whitsell, A. M. Skeffington and T. R. Murroughs. Each of these men has been selected because of outstanding contributions to the profession of optometry. Fraternity Sponsor is Dr. James H. Grout, a member of Tomb and Key in the class of 1939.

News Editor; Lee Stroemer, Circulation Manager; Yule Rank, Photographer; Verdon Webb, Bob Krack, Feature Writers.

The NICO NEWS was founded as a result of a chance conversation between Mel Kaplin, John Thomson and Ward MacKeen one afternoon in the lobby of the Dorm. These men, realizing the need for a school publication, contacted the, then, President of Student Council and, after having received clearance from the Council, preceeded to organize a staff and plan the lay-out of the paper.

After engravers and printers had been contacted and decided upon, the first issue was put to bed in November of 1946. One thousand copies were ordered that month and they carried the news that the first All-School dance had been a huge success and that twenty nine had received their O.D. degrees at the November graduation.

Currently, two thousand, five hundred copies are printed for each issue and these are not commensurate with the demand. The NICO NEWS is financed by the students through the Student Council and is mailed free of charge to the state associations, state boards, optometric publications and optometry colleges throughout the United States, Canada and Cuba.

The Pan Hellenic Council.....

The primary purpose of the council is to regulate the activities of the fraternities and sorority for the mutual welfare and best interests of all. It plans and organizes two rush-pledge seasons each calendar year, and works hard in the effort to keep all rivalries friendly and harmonious.

Membership in the Pan Hellenic Council is limited to Greek letter organizations of ten members or more.

The council is also concerned with the advancement of fraternal spirit, not only within each fraternity but interfraternally as well. To help accomplish this end, a gala affair is sponsored each semester for the enjoyment of all chapter members.

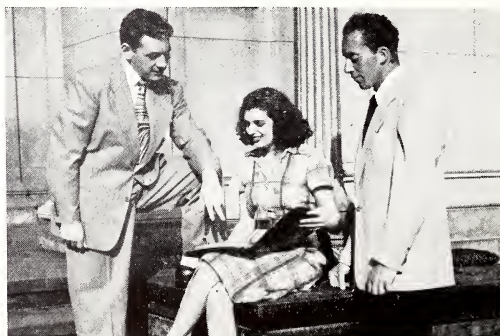

At present, the council is comprised of three representatives from each of the five fraternities, and the one sorority, on the campus. Officers are elected for one semester, the president being selected from a different organization each time, in rotational sequence.

Pi Kappa Rho has the distinction of being the oldest optometric sorority. Alpha Chapter was founded March 17, 1928 at Northern Illinois College of Optometry. Since that time chapters have been organized at other optometric colleges—Beta Chapter at Memphis, and Gamma Chapter at Los Angeles.

The purpose of Pi Kappa Rho is to further the interests and ideals of optometry, to promote sociability among members, and to encourage moral and intellectual advancement.

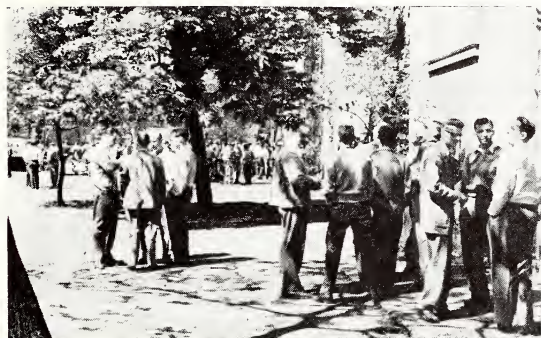

All women enrolled in, or graduated from, an accredited optometric school are eligible for membership. Prerequisites for membership are determined by grade standards and other requirements as set up by the Pan Hellenic Council.

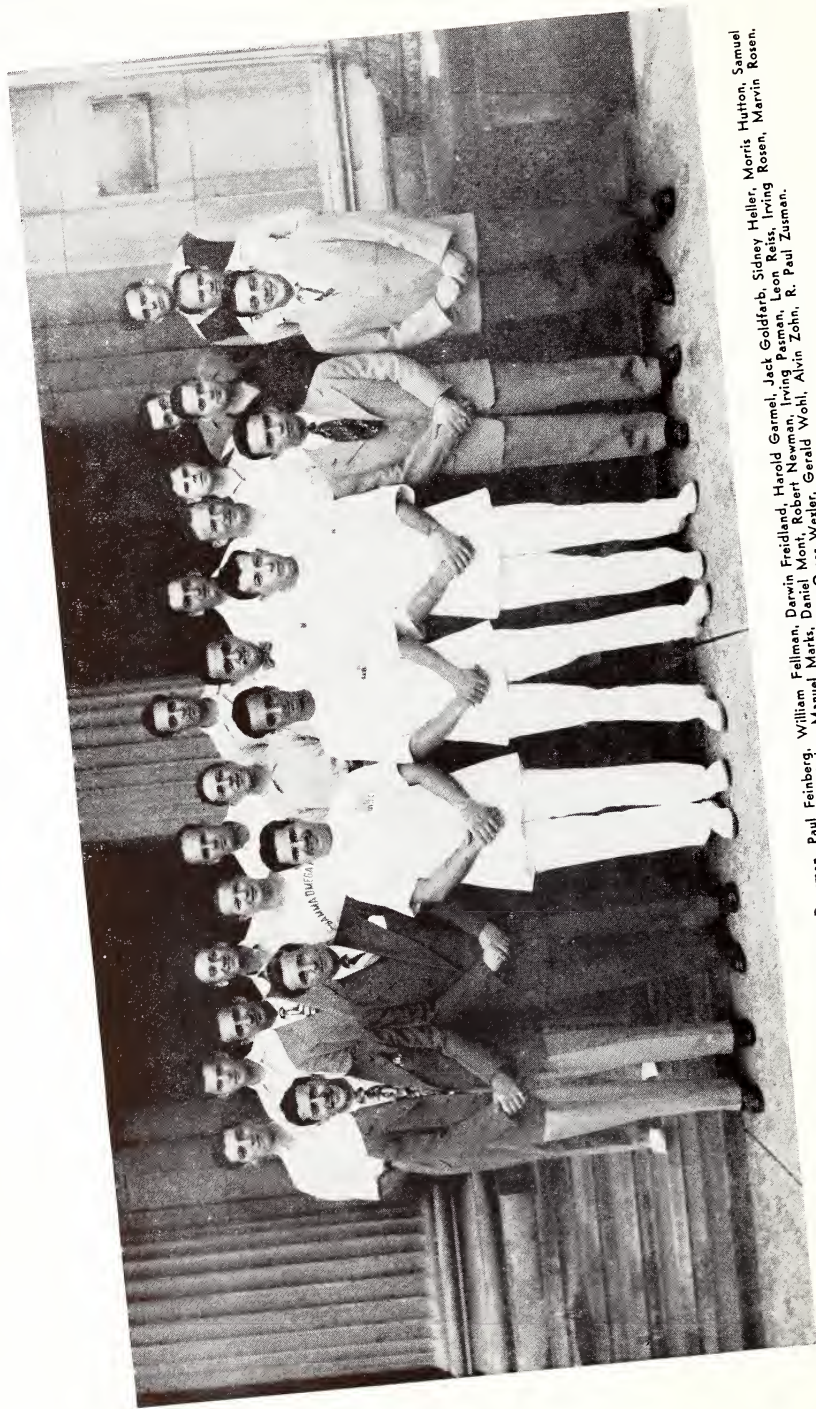

Activities have always included fun and frolic as well as serious study and professional advancement. Miss Lida Needles is an honorary member and has been associated with the organization since its infancy.

Recent activities included a Phoropter Raffle, a vision training lecture and demonstration by a representative of Keystone View Co., and visits to the office of Dr. Marguerite Eberl, Milwaukee.

Gamma Omega Phi.....

The history of Gamma Omega Phi is a proud one, based upon a heritage of brotherly love and professional activity. It is a young fraternity, having been founded in June of 1946. At that time ten men banded together and formed the Beta Chapter at Northern Illinois College. This group was the nucleus of the present organization.

Foremost among the aims is the wish to give the greatest assistance possible to members as they prepare to take a leading part in professional optometry.

Socially, through participation in fraternity functions, the group aids as a personality builder for the future optometrist. Open to men of Jewish faith, Gamma Omega Phi selects those men whom it feels will uphold the honored ideals of the constitution.

For the married member, G. O. P. offers a ladies auxilliary so that the "better halves" may gather on meeting nights to indulge in entertainment pleasing to all.

Mu Sigma Pi.....

Mu Sigma Pi was founded just fifteen years ago at this college to afford the student body the opportunities and privileges which membership in a professional fraternity can provide. The object of the group is to spread among its members those ideals resulting in the highest level of optometric practice.

The activities are numerous. Lectures and demonstrations on various phases of the optometric field are required by the constitution to be held at least once a month. The members have the opportunity to advance their refractive techniques also, since the fraternity has purchased a complete unit for their use.

In keeping with its professional standards, the members of Mu Sigma Pi maintain constant liaison with the Undergraduate Council on Ethics.

Numerous parties and hay rides go towards making the overall activities a sensible, well-balanced program, equally divided between the educational, professional and social aspects of fraternity life.

Omega Delta.....

Omega Delta had a very modest beginning. Several students at the college, realizing the need of an undergraduate organization, formed a group on January 21, 1917 to bring about a closer bond between the students. So successfully was the local fraternity conducted, that the members conceived the idea of forming a National Optometric Fraternity. This plan resulted in the creation of Omega Delta in 1919.

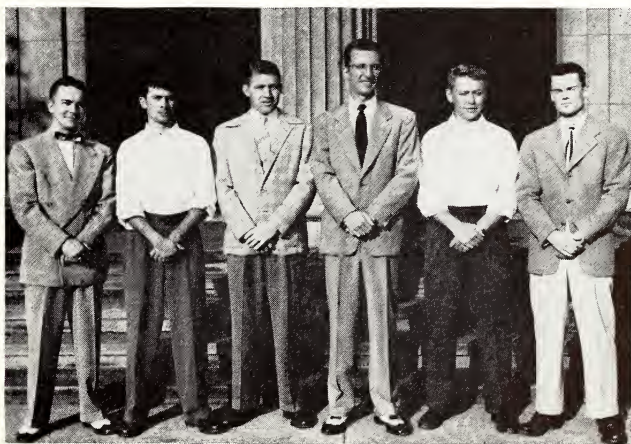

Seven active chapters are now contributing to the membership of the national group. The alumni of the fraternity belong to the Omega Delta Alumni Association.

One of the fundamental precepts of the fraternity is to foster professional optometry. A thorough grounding in these principles has been accorded every person who has been accepted for membership.

The main purpose of Omega Delta is to teach sound ethics, and to develop the character and personality of its members through the media of fraternity activities.

Election of officers is held every four months, which gives the opportunity for more men to express their leadership abilities.

Omega Epsilon Phi

Omega Epsilon Phi was founded in October, 1919, at Columbia University. It is a national fraternity, having chapters in every recognized class A optometric college and university which carries optometry on its curriculum. National headquarters is located in New York City.

The aims and purposes of the fraternity are to further the cause of optometry as a profession, to create ethical practitioners and to promote new thought in modern optometry.

Membership requirements demand a minimum grade point average of 2.2, plus qualities of leadership and character. The fraternity is proud of the number of men who have gone into the field of optometry and have proved themselves worthy.

Activities are many; social as well as athletic and academic. Dances are given during the school year in addition to the regularly scheduled events of rush season. Guest speakers are presented. The group takes an active part in all intramural sports.

Omega Epsilon Phi wishes each member of the graduating class the best of success and happiness in the days ahead.

Phi Theta Upsilon.....

Alpha Chapter of Phi Theta Upsilon was founded in 1924. The first Chancellor was Dr. Harry Byland, now of Milwaukee. Except for the years of World War II, when the chapter was inactive, the fraternity has since been an integral part of both social and academic activities at Northern Illinois College.

The group was organized to bring about a more friendly and brotherly relationship among student optometrists. Phi Theta Upsilon International carries on this spirit. Every member is pledged to clean and professional optometry, and to serve the visual needs of his patients to the best of his ability in a manner commensurate with these ideals.

Alpha Chapter has instituted an award for the highest scholastic standing within each class of graduating brothers, and another for leadership ability.

The fraternity has several parties, banquets and dinner-dances, which are held every semester in the better hotels and restaurants of greater Chicago.

The activities of Phi Theta Upsilon are given added impetus by an organization known as the Alpha Club, composed of the wives of the members.

The Square and Compass Club was organized in September 1931 by a group of Master Masons who were students attending the college at that time. After verifying membership of the various applicants with their home lodges, the first official meeting was held the following month.

The club was quite active until 1941, at which time decreased enrollment during the war years made continuation of the organization impossible, and the meetings were suspended for the duration.

Initiation and induction of new members is held at the installation banquet shortly after the beginning of each semester. Social functions include ladies nights, banquets, dinner dances and picnics.

Many of the past members have become leaders in the optometric field. Dr. Frank M. Root, the first president of the club, is practicing in Iowa, where he has done outstanding work in vision training.

Honorary members of the group include Drs. William B. Needles and C. Stanley McGuire.

The Newman Club is a group dedicated to Catholic culture and fellowship, fostering the spiritual, intellectual and social interest of the Catholic students of the college.

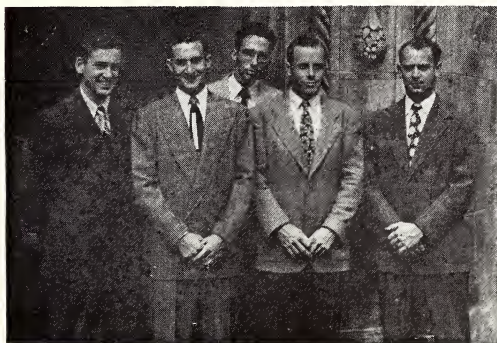

The club did not function during the war. It was reorganized by Victor Harasty, Joseph Schoofs and Tom Guthrie in July, 1947, as a branch of the National Newman Clubs of America.

Membership is open to all Catholic students. Honorary membership is extended to non-students as shall be elected by unanimous vote of the executive committee.

The religious activities consist of discussions, led by Father Burns of Holy Angels Parish, the present chaplain, concerning the Catholic viewpoint on ethics, the position of the professional man in the culture of today, and general subjects pertaining to the Doctrines of the Catholic Church.

The social events in the past have consisted of club dinners, and gatherings with other college organizations. Newman Club regularly meets with the Young People's Club of St. Ambrose Parish.

Realizing that professional success depends largely upon the ability to make oneself known to the public, a group of students organized the Forum Club of Northern Illinois College of Optometry in December of 1947, in order to develop their abilities as speakers.

The first meeting was held in February of 1948. The writers of the constitution, Morris Ginis, Dan Epps, and Frank Fischer, were elected chairman, vice-chairman and parliamentarian respectively and guided the group through its infancy.

To inspire and maintain the confidence of the public and of other professional men, an optometrist should be able to speak well and convincingly, formally or informally before any group.

At the meetings of the club, student speakers are presented and then are subjected to constructive criticism from the audience, thus providing experience under a variety of speaking conditions.

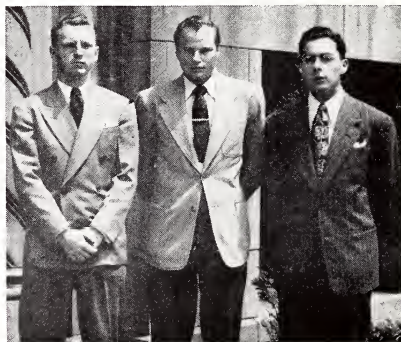

Topics are selected for their interest value and include both current events and subjects pertaining to optometry. A new group of speakers is selected for each meeting.

The B'nai B'rith Chapter was chartered by the National Order on January 17, 1947. The organizer and first president of the organization was Sanford Ziff.

The purpose of the group is to provide a religious and social affiliation for all Jewish students, as well as providing athletic and professional activities.

Since its inception, the chapter has been active in college affairs. The softball team has been an integral part of the intramural league for the past two seasons, and basketball, bowling and golf have receive much attention. The most elaborate social event of the B'nai B'rith season was the Spring Dance at the Shoreland Hotel.

Various stag dinner-meetings have been held, as well as monthly educational and cultural meetings, which have been open to the student body.

The Dames Club was organized for the benefit and pleasure of the wives of NICO students. The purpose is really twofold; first, to acquaint the members with the profession their husbands have chosen, and the necessary part they are to play in civic life as the wives of professional men, and second, to provide a social life for the girls while away from their home states.

Meetings are held twice each month. Lectures by men and women of prominence in optometry often are included in the programs. In addition, the meetings are supplemented by demonstrations in the arts and sciences close to the hearts of homemakers.

Showers, parties, picnics, and tours to places of interest in and around Chicago, are all part of the club's busy social calendar.

A bouquet and farewell gift is presented each member at the time of her husband's graduation.

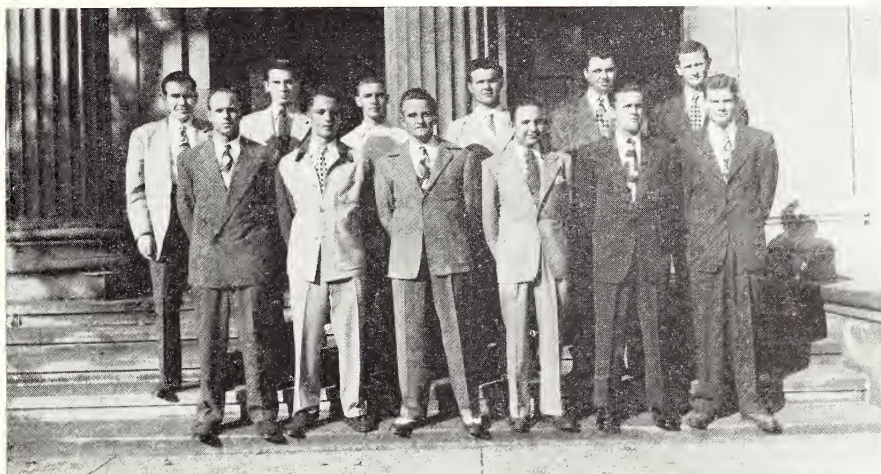

It is felt that the Dames Club is a necessary and worthwhile organization which assists greatly in welcoming student-wives and making them "at home" during their residence in Chicago.

Looking Back----

The influx of ex-servicemen following the late great world-conflict set the stage for a rebirth of the athletic program here at N.I.C.O. With the assistance of the organizational mid-wifery of Art Bistline, the rounding of the year 1946 found our Alma Mater with the first of the new varsity basketball teams - teams which the colleges in the Chicago area learned to respect. Managed by Bistline, and captained by Leath Robbins, the squad consisted of Paul France, Lloyd Carlson, Lee Haskins and Verne Nyre.

The softball season followed the ending of the basketball season, and twelve teams entered the all-school tournament which lasted from April to September. It was this tournament which brought out much of the heated rivalry that still exists. The pitching duels, between Jerry Ferrenbach of the G.I. Club and Stan Pettingill of the Texans, were games that will be long remembered. These two boys pitched three no-hitters, Stan coming out with two of them. The season finished up with the G.I.'s defeating Claude McConnell's Gay Mauraunders for the school championship.

Tennis came into intra-collegiate prominence during that same summer, when Seymour Falk directed the first of the post-war tournaments. Some ninety-eight competitors were doing right well until Seymour Galina, who doubled in brass as the Student Council President, finally snatched the laurels from Ernie Tietjen in the final round.

During the winter, plans were afoot to present a fullfledged varsity tennis team, and early spring saw Captain Falk leading a squad consisting of Seymour Galina, former N.Y.U. star, Bill Lee from San Jose State, Malcolm Bekken, Philip McEwen and Bill Wincell. They won every match without losing a game—the only undefeated season in Northern Illinois history.

That same winter saw the second of the great varsity basketball teams, with Leon Huttner, Bill Lee, Bennett Wolf, Paul Samson and Louis McCormick.

The all-school basketball league was won by the Wolves, an independent team managed by Bennett Wolf, and including Arthur Woodrow, Leon Huttner and Joe Levine. They suffered only one loss in eleven games; their one stumble coming at the hands of the Sophomore I group, or more specifically, Phil Hottel, Mel Bernard, Lee Haskins and Seymour Falk.

Bowling, which probably provided more student participation in volume, and more enthusiasm by decibels, than any other sport on the docket, finished in April 1947 with Freshman I-C Alpha on top of the pile. This group, composed of Yule Rank, Thomas Plemon, Robert Dyson, George Raulfs and Theodore Sebastian, won forty-nine and lost twenty-three. The individual honors were taken by Thomas Oakley Miller and Mrs. Herman Uhrig. Credit for much of the pleasure enjoyed by the participants must go to Orvin Ide, who was the bowling secretary.

Paul Samson provided the impetus for the first all-school golf tournament, and another facet of the college sport personality was demonstrated to the student body. The championship flight was won by Tom Robertson, and the second and third flights were taken by Dick Clifford and George De Young, respectively. Verne Olsen took the consolation title.

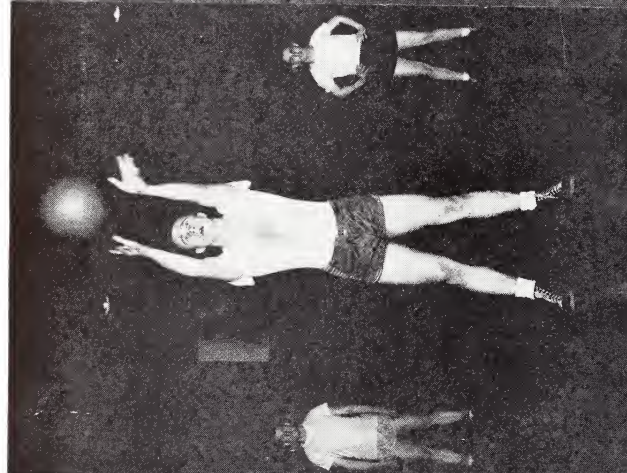

The greatest individual athletic feat of recent years was the winning of the Chicago Public Parks Tournament by our Seymour (Tennis) Galina. The good doc came out of the south side like an avenging angel, sweeping all competition before him. He took Bill Migdow, then the Big Ten champ, in the semifinals, and went on to win the championship. He went to Indianapolis for the national, but was finally eliminated in the quarterfinals.

The softball season provided competition to match the record heat of last summer, as five teams pounded into the stretch with their collective eyes on the Shaughnessy playoff which was to follow the regular season. The P. T. U.'s won a play-off with the NICO NEWS squad and reduced the field to the regulation four teams. The O. E. Phi team with pitcher Stan Pettingill, and the Emmetrops with Gerry Ferrenbach, played a thriller which the Emmetrops pulled out of the fire with a two to one score. Meanwhile the P.T.U. team handed Paul Zusman his first defeat of the year in winning their semi-final six to two. The championship game found the Emmetrops defeating the P.T.U.'s by a score of six to three. When the gold balls were given out, it was noted that Bennett Wolf had won more athletic awards than anyone in recent Northern Illinois history; the total was five.

Last fall, at about the time that Sam Donahue came to play for the all-school dance and Professor Gilman was setting the chemical world on fire with his research on organic fluorescence, a new sports commissioner was chosen by the Student Council. His name was Robert Krack, and he promised an even greater expansion of the athletic schedule. The immediate result was a whopping list of twenty teams signing up for basketball. The season ended with the Tiger team, led by Knapp and Rehl, winning twelve league games and three playoffs to finish a perfect season. Larry Fischer, Vince Scudder, Nat Snyder, Joe Staley and Bob Walters were on the squad. The P.T.U.'s won the frat trophy.

The varsity hoopers were rolling up a record which made Coach Krack mighty proud, and rightly so. The performance of eighteen won and five lost was accomplished with a team which included Leon Huttner, Bill Knapp, Louis McCormick, Bob Rehl, Vince Scudder, Bill Lee, Tom Bell, Norman Adele, Glen Higgins, and Lee Haskins. They defeated the University of Illinois (Navy Pier) in two games, the University of Chicago in two games, and Morgan Park Junior College, besides winning the Hyde Park League.

Forty men responded to the coach's call for spring training for the varsity baseball squad, and after the final paring had been done, there were seventeen men left. This group have thus far compiled an enviable record of fifteen games won and two lost. Their aim, as this article is being written, is victory in their league so that they may represent this section of Chicago in the city finals, and probably win a trip to Battle Creek, Michigan, to play in the national amateur world series. Our baseball team has defeated George William College, Chicago Teachers College and Barney's Tops who were last year's national champs. The members of the team Bill Knapp, Bob Rehl, Bob Krack, Gerry Marek, Jack McGonagle, Nat Snyder, Tom Turcott, Pete Mason, Charlie Moskop, Orville O'Connor, Vince Scudder, Don Wennerburg, James Henderson, Jack Wolley and Al Hendelang.

The Omega Delta bowling team won the Tuesday nite league for the winter of '47-'48, led by Thomas O. Miller; they lived up to most of the expert predictions with a won-lost score of sixty-five and thirty-one. The Friday nite league found the Blind Spot team in the lead, nosing out the strong Senior I-A's by a single game. Individual honors were carried off by Dr. George Cameron of the faculty team, who gathered the highest average for the men, while Mrs. Uhrig again won the high average for the women.

Softball is again under way as this issue of the annual goes to press. At the present time, Paul Zusman and his Gamma Omega Phi team leads the league with a record of six and none. From this corner it looks as if the fraternity and school titles will rest safely in G.O.P. hands for the next year.

Tom Robertson of the Junior II class has brought another city championship to the school. He recently defeated Dan Christiansen for the Chicago City Amateur Golf Championship. Tom, who entered the tournament too late to be listed in the original entries, waited at the course all day until one of the players dropped out. He then parlayed a lot of fine golf and a fighting heart into a real victory, over a field which included such golfers as Chick Evans, Tony Caruso, Tony Esposito and Ed Klette. Robertson became the first outsider to win the Chicago tourney in sixteen years.
